MAY NOT TAKE APPEAL IN CASE

GORDON MAY BE SUED

Argument of Counsel for Woman Causes Offense—Said W. R. Dunkum May Have Killed Victor Hall.

Louise Courthouse, August 11.—"She got off with a very light sentence" is the general opinion of the verdict in the case of Mrs. Victor Hall convicted of killing her husband in the early morning of April 15 and given ten years in prison. The jury debated the question less than an hour and it was the unanimous opinion that the widow was guilty of shooting the young Green Spring merchant the same night W. R. Donkum's store was burned at that place. While the evidence was entirely circumstantial, the chain was so complete that it was apparent long before the end of the trial that there was hardly a probability concerning what the verdict would be.

Attorney Gordon, chief counsel for the convicted woman, says he will carry the case to the supreme court. Many people, however, think that on second thought Mr. Gordon will let well enough alone and accept the verdict as brought in Saturday afternoon. The community is almost a unit in the belief that the woman is guilty and they have thought so from the very first.

There was a rumor that Mrs. Hall had confessed, but this proved to be untrue. It is extremely doubtful if she will make any statement differing from that she has held to ever since the murder, and on which she will also include the Dunkum store fire.

Lindsay Gordon's argument in the case is discussed almost as much as the verdict. The attorney is bitterly censured, and people do not hesitate to say that the lawyer hurt his client's case by his abuse and invectives, which "trained like a serpent" through his entire talk of six hours. He denounced as liars practically every witness of the commonwealth, vented abuse on the press, which he declared printed only the sensational side of the case, and did not fairly represent Mrs. Hall's side, and, in conclusion, said that there was more in the evidence to implicate W. R. Dunkum than there was to implicate Mrs. Hall.

Dunkum is very much incensed over the statement and it is said is contemplating entering suit against Mr. Gordon for slander. Dunkum is one of the most highly respected citizens in the community and is absolutely above suspicion in the case.

Should the case be reviewed by the Court of Appeals, and sufficient errors found in Judge Shackelford's rulings, the case will be remanded for a new trial.

The record, however, is peculiarly free from exceptions. Upon almost every point the prosecution yielded to the defense, and the rulings which the judge was forced to make are believed to be based upon undisputed principles of law and long established precedents.

If a new trial is ordered it will not lie within the province of the jury to convict Mrn. Hall of murder in the first degree. She has been tried for first degree murder and acquitted, and she cannot be tried again on the same charge.

But it will lie within the province of another jury to send Mrs. Hall to the penitentiary for eighteen years, that being the maximum penalty for second degree murder. Some are, therefore, inclined to think that no appeal will be taken; that the ten-year sentence will not be contested; that well enough will be let alone.

Every member of the jury which tried Mrs Hall believed her guilty when they retired to discuss the verdict to be returned.

On the first ballot every man said "guilty." Several were for life-imprisonment. Some were for eighteen years; others for ten. Three were for five years. One man held out for the electric chair until it was feared that he would hang the jury. He finally yielded, however, and an agreement was reached.

If a new trial is refused by Judge Shackelford, one of the five judges of the Court of Appeals will be asked to grant a writ of error. Any one of the judges can grant this writ even though the other four oppose it.

NEWS OF THE DAY

A dispatch from Tokyo says the German fleet operating from Esing-Tta coptured the Russian steamer Bizian with many British passengers yesterday. Scores of merchant steamers have been driven into Japanese ports and the commerce of this city has been seriously crippled.

Importers of toys are hard hit by the European war and the present indications are that there will be a dearth of the latest productions from Germany, Austria and Russia for the coming Christmas season. The first shipments had just been made on the other side when the war broke out and with the arrival in New York last week of the steamship President Lincoln the last entries were received. Dealers in toys say that if the war keeps up Americans will have to begin to make all of their toys.

The Hamburg-American Line steamer Cap Ortegal with $5,000,000 in specie aboard, has been captured by the British, according to the London Daily Mail. The liner sailed from Buenos Aires on July 16 for Southampton.

Three persons were killed yesterday when a train plunged through a railway bridge near the Canadian military camp Valcartier. The bridge was damaged during the night and a man whom the authorities suspect was implicated in the plot was shot to death as he was running away. A guard who saw the man hurrying off challenged him. When the man refused to halt the guard raised his rifle and fired.

The London residents' committee yesterday paid out $10,000 to tourists on cable orders from their home banks. In needy cases hotel bills were paid until transportation could be obtained. A bogus steamship ticket fiend has appeared on the scene. One victim paid $400 for a counterfeit ticket.

The Reuter News Agency announces that it had learned from an authoritative source that the Austrians had temporarily abandoned the attempted invasion of Servia and had taken up a strong position in their own territory awaiting an attack.

The Servian legation in London made official announcement yesterday evening that the Austrians, who have been attacking Belgrade, have withdrawn after making seven unsuccessful efforts to cross the Danube and Save rivers.

The ports of Montreal and Quebec have been closed under orders of the Federal authorities and no ships will be allowed to leave.

The French foreign office announced officially last night that France had broken off diplomatic relations with Austria-Hungary.

A Brussels dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says, among the German losses in the assault on Liege were Prince William of Lippe and his son, who were killed.

Announcement that Lord Kitchener, minister of war, has directed the raising of a second volunteer army of 100,000 was made in the British House of Commons yesterday afternoon by Premier Asquith. This announcement is interpreted as meaning that the entire available British army is now under orders for service on the Continent, and that a giod portion of it is already there. The main interest of London centered in the hidden movement of the British fleet, and the possibility of an immediate conflict that will determine naval supremacy.

It is believed in Shanghai, China, that the German fleet has been bottled up in the Esing-Tau Harbor by the British squadron. Cannonading was reported in that vicinity by an incoming ship.

FRENCH EVACUATE MUELHAUSEN

Said to Have Been Driven Back by Overwhelming Force of Germans.

BATTLE IN PROGRESS

Paris, August 11.—The war office this afternoon issued an official statement announcing that the French have been compelled to evacuate Muelhausen, in Alsace.

The announcement states that the army operating against Neu Breisach was driven back and that an overwhelming German army pushed the attack back upon Muelhausen, the French retiring to the outskirts, where they are now making a stand.

A general battle is now believed in progress.

This is the first news received of a German victory. When Muelhausen was taken by the French, it was claimed by the Germans that they had retired because the city was not fortified.

Today a dispatch from Rome telling of the situation in Germany announces that the retirement was in pursuance of prearranged plans of the German general staff, and indicated that another forward movement was about to commence.

The admission in Paris that the French evacuated Muelhausen indicates that this movement was successful.

With Waterloo as a center of an eighty-mile battle front, the German army of invasion and the allied armies of Belgium, France and England are moving together today.

The cavalry screen has been lifted sufficiently to disclose a great body of German infantry and supporting artillery moving through Tonges, north of Liege.

French re-enforcements of heavy artillery from Lille have passed through Brussels to form a bulwark against a hitherto unsuspected German column in the northwest that threatens the Belgian capital itself.

BOLT SPARES A BOY HERO.

Crawls a Mile to Notify First Aid Corps of Need.

Maunch Chunk, August 11.—While they were picking huckleberries on the Nesquehoning Mountain yesterday afternoon a lightning bolt struck Albert Shafer, a Jersey Central Railroad engineer, his son, George, and George Yost, all of Upper Mauch Chunk and from the same house. The engineer was instantly killed, and his son and Mr. Yost are not expected to recover.

After the lightning had struck, the boy, who was least injured, crawled to Nesquehoning, one mile distant, to spread the news. The first aid corps of the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Company, at Nesquehoning, promptly responded and rendered first aid, but in vain. Mr. Shafer is survived by his wife, one son and two daughters.

Sunbury, Pa., August 11.—At Rolling Green, near here, in a terrific thunderstorm yesterday, lightning struck a bungalow and Mrs. John Stroh, Miss Jessie Stroh and Miss Beulah Hochenbrocht, all of Sunbury, were shocked and burned.

Grand Duchess Barred Way.

London, August 11.—A major of the German army was the first to cross the bridge entering Luxemburg He found his way barred by a cabinet minister and then by Marie Adelaide, Grand Duchess of Luxemburg, says the correspondent, but he advised the ruler to 'go home" and his revolver was adequately persuasive to turn the minister back.

The work of military destruction by the Germans then began, and Luxemburg was converted into a strategic war ground.

JUVENILE OFFENDERS.

Boys Before the Police Court to Answer Charge of Unlawful Assembly.

There was but one case before the Police Court this morning, that of a number of little boys, who had been summoned to appear to answer the charge of gathering in front of the residence of a woman on South Lee street. According to the assertion of the complainant, she and other members of her family were incessantly annoyed throughout the day and part of the night by the youngsters, who preferred the sidewalk in front of her home to any other part of the neighborhood for a playground. She had appealed to the police, who had scattered the urchins occasionally, but they reappeared as the officer left.

The parents of the children had appeared to answer for them, and upon giving assurance that they would keep away from the woman's house in the future, the charge was dismissed.

The examination of charges against children is one of the most vexatious that come before the Police Court. Those who make complaint have just cause to do so, yet children under a certain age cannot be dealt with; hence the obligation is laid upon parents to prevent them from annoying neighbors. Judge Crutchfield, of Richmond, several months ago, held the parents responsible for their children when turned loose in the streets, and on one occasion levied fines of ten dollars upon those who allowed their children to appear in the streets with toy guns.

REFRRESHING SHOWERS.

There were several refreshing showers late yesterday afternoon, which afforded relief to man and beast who had experienced the depressing effects of the hot weather of the past few days. The rains seemed to have spread over a large area. The showers were greatly needed hereabouts, as vegetation had been suffering from drought.

There were some thunder and lightning, but no high winds accompanied the showers. Conditions became more pleasant and in an hour the mercury in the tubes dropped nearly 15 points, or to about 75 degrees at 6 o'clock.

Those who had lost sleep in the previous 24 hours made up for it last night.

While the sun's rays were not as fierce as on Sunday, there was enough humidity yesterday to render conditions uncomfortable. The thick clouds that came up suddenly after 4 o'clock were as welcome as the flowers in spring, and the swishing rain made many a garden and flower bed in the city look better than for 10 days past.

GERMANY WILL STRIKE HARD.

Berlin Declares Invasion of Alsace "Unimportant."

Rome, August 11.—Delayed advices received from Berlin today charterize the French invasion of Alsace as expected and unimportant. The German opposition south of Colmar was maintained only to feel out the strength of the French, it is explained, and then the German forces retired o ntheir advanced defense base.

It is stated that the German war plans are working out without a hitch, and that the armies will strike hard when all is ready. Germany is perfectly calm, these reports agree, and the air of expectancy about the war office leaves the impression that a great forward movement that will demonstrate the strength of the German arms is impending.

The attempted Russian invasion of Prussia has been checked with heavy loss, it is said, and the German advance guard is now operating in Russian Poland.

PROGRESS OF THE FUNERAL TRAIN

JOURNEY NEAR END

Funeral Knells at Manassas, Orange, Danville and Other Virginia Towns and Cities Yesterday.

Despite the heavy downpour of rain yesterday afternoon when the special train bearing the remains of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson was scheduled to pass through Alexandria, a large crowd of people were present at the Union Station and stood with bared heads as the train passed. The city bells were tolled while the train was in the city.

On Board President Wilson's car Seneca, S. C., August 11.—Through the Southland today, homage was paid to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, "daughter of Dixie," as the funeral train bearing the body of the wife of the President sped toward Rome, Ga., where interment ceremonies will be held late this afternoon.

At almost every hamlet and city through which the funeral train passed, church bells tolled, as the train passed, slowly, or speedily, on its sad journey. Crowds stood at hot, dusty stations, with heads bared in mute expression of sympathy to the Chief Executive and his family.

Even at crossroads stations throughout the night small groups of citizens offered their silent tribute to the nation's dead.

A Spartanburg and Greenville, S. C., flowers were presented by committees.

Beside the casket of his dead helpmate in the private car, President Wilson kept sorrowful vigil until 1 o'clock this morning. Secret service men acted as a death watch afterward, relieving the President, until daylight today, when Mrs. Sayre took up the watch, assisted by another relay of Secret Service men.

The President and his family seemed to be standing their ordeal well. They kept out of view, of course, from station crowds. Several distant relatives of Mrs. Wilson boarded the train at Spartanburg.

The funeral train is due at Rome at 2.30 p. m this afternoon. Brief services at the First Presbyterian Church, are planned, followed by interment in the family vault at Myrtle Hill Cemetery.

Manassas, Va., August 11.—Virginia towns tolled their church bells and crowds gathered at many of the railroad stations last night as the special train bearing President Wilson and his dead wife passed southward. The President was sitting beside the casket as the train left Washington, and he stayed there until late in the evening. The train is due at Rome, Ga., where Mrs. Wilson's body is to be buried tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

Orange, Va., August 11.—The special train bearing the body of Mrs. Wilson passed through here yesterday evening at 6.30 o'clock. A large crowd had gathered at the depot to pay honor to the memory of the first lady of the land, and stood with uncovered heads as the train rolled slowly through the town. The courthouse bell and the bells in the churches were tolled in respect to dead, and the air of solemnity and sincere sorrow which pervaded the whole crowd showed the respect and sympathy felt for the President and his bereaved family.

Danville, Va., August 1-.—The funeral train bearing Mrs. Wilson's remains passed through here at 11.45 last night, pausing five minutes at a water tank just outside the city. The coaches were in darkness as the train slipped by. Over 100 persons had gathered at the station to see the train.

Vineland, N. J., August 11.—Mrs Eva Cantlin, of South Vineland, was shot in the breast about 3 o'clock yesterday morning by her husband, John, who mistook her for a burglar, the bullet deflecting from the heart because of a rib. Mrs. Cantlin thought she heard burglars in the kitchen and, after arousing her husband, stole silently downstairs to protect him in case of danger. The husband saw something move and he fired.

DIVES UNDER AUTO TO SAVE.

Overturning Machine Trapped Girl in Canal Plunge.

Trenton, August 11.—An automobile with three occupants plunged through a bridge into the Delaware and Raritan Canal, at Scudder's Falls yesterday. Those in the car were William Smith, Miss Bessie Wyndoff and Hazel Thorn, all of Lambertville. They escaped wit ha few painful injuries and a ducking. The auto overturned as it crashed through the rails. The girls were in the rear seat and Miss Wyndoff was trapped under the machine. Smith bravely dived down and opened the door of the car, saving the girl's life.

ITALY WANTS ALBANIA.

Believed Country is to be Drawn Into European War.

London, August 11.—Italy's entry into the general European war is momentarily expected. Special dispatches from Durazzo say that Italy is casting covetous eyes on Albania, and her seizure of that new country is expected.

The conditions in the Albanian capital are desperate. Native troops are unpaid, and there is no money in the treasury. Practically the only troops in Durazzo are the international detachments from Italy and France, sent there when Albania was proclaimed an independent principality, to enforce order, It is expected that the French troops will shortly be withdrawn for use in the war. This would leave the Italians in complete control.

If Italy should seize Albania she would immediately be drawn into the European war. The little country has long been coveted by Servia and Montenegro. It was established as a separate entitty under the rule of Prince William of Weid following the Balkan war.

WAR ABOUT TO HALT IN MEXICO

Speedy Termination of Country's Difficulties Anticipated.

TO LEAVE CAPITAL

Federals Prepare to Transfer Government to Constitutionalists as Soon as Possible.

Mexico City, August 11.—Indications point to a speedy termination of the anomalous situation in which Mexico has found herself since the enforced resignation of Provisional President Victoriano Huerta.

The reins of government, it is now believed, will be peacefully transferred to a Constitutionalist government, while the Federal army of some 40,000 men will march out of the capital to a southern city there to awnit developments after offering their services to the new government in exchange for guarantees. If these latter are not forthcoming the Federal army leaders insinuate that they will combat the new administration.

To carry out the new plan Provisional President Carbajal will turn over the government to Eduardo Iturbide, the Governor of the Federal district and the head of the rurales. The latter will be used as a neutral force to patrol the capital during the interval of the departure of the Federal troops and the entrance of the Constitutionalists.

Provisonal President Carbajal will go to Vera Cruz before the entry of the triumphant army, which is to be headed by General Alvaro Obregon, who is now near Tula with a force of 25,000 men.

Much anxiety has been felt here of late over the proximity of General Zapata and his army, but this was greatly relieved today by the announcement that Felipe Contreras, a representative of Zapata, had arranged with President Carbajal for an armistice.

Preparations for war had been carried forward on a large scale in the past few days, but they now have ceased. Three thousand rurales are ready to supplant the Federal army as soon as it vacates the city though serious disturbances are not feared.

A manifesto to be issued by President Carbajal will call upon the people to maintain law and order and to support the new government. As public opinion is largely with the new regime no trouble is expected.

A general attack on Mazatlan was ordered last night by General Iturbe, commander of the investing Constitutionalists. Already in possession of the outer line of defenses, the besieging forces advanced to the earthworks, on the edge of the cit y.

Fierce hand-to-hand fighting occurred in the trenches, which, filled with dead only partially buried, cover the approach to the city's main fortifications. Indians aiding the insurgents used their knives with sanguinary effect.

Mexico City, August 11.—The departure of President Carbajal for Vera Cruz, the dissolution of Congress and the arrival on the outskirts of the capital of the constitutionalist forces of General Obregon, who are expected to enter the city in orderly manner, are imminent developments.

A majority of the members of Congress today sustains the argument that Carbajal, rather than resign, ought to continue in office, even if he moves to the American lines at Vera Cruz, whence, if necessary, he can direct that portion of the army which late yesterday evacuated the capital and went to Puebla, between the capital and Vera Cruz.

Americans and other nationals here feel assured that the constitutionalists' entrance will be without disorder, duplicating in many respects the entrance of Francisco Madero four years ago.

TRADES COUNCIL MEETS

The regular order of business was dispensed with and H. Hoffman, of Richmond, international organizer of the Brewery Workers, was invited to give a few remarks on the State-wide Prohibition issue.

Mr. Hoffman said:

Mr. President and brother delegates: It gives me great pleasure to be with you tonight and to see so many intelligent and honest faces in which I can read a determination to weigh all matters of importance intelligently. I want to say a few words to you in regard to the great and important question that is confronting the citizens and toilers of this state—the question of State-wide Prohibition. The question has been brought to your attention as a prohibition fight but gentlemen it is not a prohibition fight but a labor fight.

Why do I say that. I will ask you, gentleman, is there anything in the act to be voted on that will prohibit intoxicants from being shipped into our state?

Would it decrease the consumption of intoxicant beverages?

On the other hand would it not increase the consumption.?

Look up the statistics of any State that has tried it and see if it don't bear me out.

I will show you that this fight will not only throw the saloonkeeper, the brewery workers and the bartenders out of employment, but men from each and every craft as you will see.

We will take the bricklayer.

Now there is in contemplation in Newport News, should the state vote in favor of local option, a building to cost $50,000, another building in Richmond to cost the same amount which would mean a loss of $100,000 worth of work to the carpenters who would do the wood working, the painter who has to do the painting, as well as the bricklayer.

Then we will take the machinist who builds all of our machines, thousands of dollars worth every year.

The wagon maker who makes all of the vehicles that are used in delivering the product, the wagon painter who paints and letters all the wagons, the harness maker who makes all the harness for us the blacksmith who shoes all of our horses, the farmer who raises all of our corn, wheat, barley, and hops, the ice plants where hundreds of thousand of tons of ice are used throughout the state, saloons and hotels, the glass bottle blowers, one of the main industries of this city.

See the number of people who will be thrown out of work from this last industry alone.

I can point out to you that every trade will be affected and when you effect the working trades you affect the merchant because if you have not got the money you cannot buy.

Now gentlemen do you believe me when I tell you that this is not prohibition fight but a labor fight.

I want to tell you that 95 per cent of the brewing workers are organized throughout the United States and they are all voters, men who pay their poll taxes and keep themselves qualified at all times, to take an active part in the cities and countries welfare. We believe that any man who makes his living in any community should help to defray the expense of such community.

Such are the class of men the Anti-Saloon League desires to destroy along with their families.

Brothers, are you going to stand idly by and see us go down.

The brewery workers have been affiliated with the American Federation of Labor since its formation.

We are affiliated with each central body and State federation and always keep ourselves in good standing with them all.

Whenever any local has appealed to us, either for moral or financial assistance, we have always come to the rescue without asking the reasons. Now we are here, not asking for financial assistance but your moral support to stand by us, shoulder to shoulder, and save the livelyhood of thousands of men with families in this state.

NEW CHAPTERS IN FIGHT

Labor Organizations of City Manifest Interest in Proposed New Highway.

New chapters were added yesterday to the story of the fight that is being made for and against the route selected for the Mt. Vernon Boulevard between Alexandria and Washington. Much to the surprise of all the parties interested, the Alexandria Trades Council, at a meeting last night, adopted a set of resolutions calling upon Representative C. C. Carlin to use his endeavors to have the money appropriated by the government divided between the two routes. The subject was brought to the attention of the trades council by P. J. Conlon, vice-president of the International Machinists' Association and a committee composed of Lawrence Millan, J. K. Sparrow, Roy Nevett, David Larkin and F. Padgett were appointed to confer with Mr. Carlin on the subject.

A meeting of the Jefferson District Citizens' Association was held last night at the Mt. Vernon Avenue schoolhouse and resolutions were adopted approving the route from Arlington to Alexandria via Hume Springs and Potomac, as selected by the Department of Agriculture. The meeting was presided over by James McCuen and Frank E. Heishley acted as secretary. Speeches were made by Robert S. Hume, Walter U. Varney, O. C. Beall, C. A. Strauss, John Gary and Jacob Corl.

The resolutions indorse and commend Logan Waller Page, chief of the Good Roads Department, Department of Agriculture; his assistants and the Board of Supervisors of Alexandria for their good offices in behalf of the movement. They also pledge any assistance that may be in their power to help them consummate the proposed work.

Among other things it is set forth in the resolution that: "The proposed route passes through a prosperous and home-owning community of taxpayers and voters by first passing through the sub-division of Virginia Highlands, thence along the historic Fort Morgan road overlooking the city of Washington, thence through the incorporated town of Potomac, comprising the sub-divisions of St. Elmo and Del Ray, thence along the Alexandria and Washington turnpike entering the historic city of Alexandria on Washington street, in which is located Christ Church and many other places of historic interest; and

"Whereas, in our opinion at least nine-tenths of the taxpayers and voters of Alexandria County are in favor of building the above-described highway to be known as Mount Vernon Avenue, and also heartily indorse the action of Logan Waller Page, chief of the good roads department, and our honorable Board of Supervisors in the ways, means and plans which they have adopted and used in consummating the building of the above highway."

Copies will be sent to Mr. Page and also to the Board of Supervisors of Alexandria County.

The committee of the Jefferson District Good Roads Association, which is opposing the route via Potomac, had a conference yesterday with Representative Carlin at his office in Washington and plans were outlined for the construction of a road from Hume Springs to Rosemont independent of the route for the Mt. Vernon Boulevard. The proposed road would be two miles in length and would cost $20,000, the cost to be borne by the Supervisors of Alexandria County, the property owners along the route and the United States government. Supervisor Edward Duncan, representing the county, promised to use his best efforts to have the county pay their part of the expense.

ELECTION IN OHIO.

Statewide Primaries Today Characterized by Apathy.

Columbus, Ohio, August 11.—Statewide primaries preceded by marked apathy until within the last few days are being held in this State for the nomination of candidates for all State offices except auditor, candidates for United States senator, representatives in 22 districts, members of the the legislature, and county tickets in all of the 88 counties.

It is the first Statewide primary for the nomination of candidates for senator and for State offices.

The race for the senatorial nomination on the Republican side is made up with former Senator Joseph Benson Foraker, of Cincinnati, W. G. Harding, editor of a Marion newspaper and former lieutenant governor and former representative Ralph D. Cole, of Findlay, as the aspirants.

Democrats will choose between Timothy S. Hogan, now serving his second term as attorney general of Ohio, Johnh L. Zimmerman, veteran Democratic leader of Springfield, and John L. Lentz, of Columbus, former representative from the Twelth district, all of whom are anxious to be the party's standard bearer in the contest for the seat now held by Senator Burton. The latter has announced his retirement.

Rushing Artillery.

Brussels, August 11.—Heavy detachments of French artillery passed through Brussels today on the way to the front. Great crowds thronged the streets waving French and Belgian flags and cheering the Belgian allies. The advance of the French and Belgian forces is excedingly rapid.

GERMAN SPIES SHOT.

600 Arrested, Many of Them Wearing False Uniforms, Says Brussels Report.

Brussels, August 11 via. Paris.—Belgium has been covered with a network of German spies. Six hundred already have been arrested and 100 were shot yesterday.

Some of the German captured were wearing uniforms of gendarmes, civic guards, soldiers and officers of the Belgian Army. Many of the spies captured were armed with bombs and revolvers, and were riding in automobiles bearing false numbers. They also had in their possession telegrams and letters with the counterfeit signature of the Belgian Minister of war.

Just before and after the fighting began private signs were discovered on bridges military works and aqueducts indicating that those structures should be blown up.

Severe precautions have now been taken by the military authorities, and no no one is admitted at the railway stations without military permits. Automobiles are halted at every mile.

The War Minister has issued a proclamation that every German and Austria who does not declare himself within two hours will be considered a spy. Since the Flanders provinces were placed under martial law, two days ago, more than 2,000 spies have been arrested.

CATCHES MAN ON HER HATPIN.

Spear Went Through His Ear and He Has Blood Poisoning.

Baltimore, August 11.—Leaving the crowded aisles of a Curtis street theatre on Thursday night a few hours after coming to town from his ranch near Fort Collins, J. H. Evans was impaled on a hatpin through the upper part of his right ear. Erysipelas and blood poison have set in and his life is in the balance. Evans is facing that part of it bravely. What hurt his feelings most, he said, was the woman's sarcastic remarks.

When she felt the interference at the end of the long pin the woman jerked her head around to see what it had caught. As Evans' ear slipped smoothly down half the length of the alleged ornament he says he vaguely remembers hearing the woman comment on the "arrested mental development of people who can't look where they are going."

"I was glad enough to get off and out the theatre before she called a policeman," said Evans. "I wouldn't know her again if I saw her, but I would know the pin. It was about a yard and a half long. My wife had a hat something like hers three years ago last winter."

As Evans went on out of the theatre nursing his ear the woman stopped in the foyer and burnished the pin on the portieres, still talking at Evans and "boob men" in general as she jabbed it back and forth through the heavy folds.

DEATH OF GENERAL LOGAN.

(Special to the Gazette.)

Richmond, Va., August 11.—A private telegram announces the death in New York today of Gen Thomas M. Logan, the youngest Confederate Brigadier at the close of the war. The body will be interred here in Hollywood tomorrow.

Gen. Logan, a native of South Carolina, was prominent in politics in Virginia as chairman of the Democratic State Committee when the whites were fighting for supremacy.

CROWDS SEE THREE DROWN.

In One Case Rescuer is Drawn Down by Cramp Victim.

Tamaqua, Pa., August 11.—Swimming at the Haute Dam yesterday John Muckliwiz, 25 years old, of Lansford, was seized with cramps, yelled for help and was apparently doomed to drown. John J. Melley, 28 years old, of Coaldale, swam to his assistance and did his utmost to save him. The cramped swimmer was desperate, however, and clung so tightly to about his would-be rescuer's neck that both sank to death. Both bodies were recovered shortly after the accident, which happened in the presence of a helpless crowd of onlookers.

Pottsville, Pa., August 11.—In the midst of a crowd of swimmers, Michael Komrick, of Middleport, was drowned in a colliery reservoir. Michael started out to swim across the dam, and had taken off all his clothing except his coat, which he tied about his neck. He suddenly gave one piercing call for help and sank to the bottom. It was an hour before his body could be located with the aid of grappling irons.

GIRL ENDS LIFE IN HOTEL.

Philadelphia, August 11.—Miss F. M. Moore, 22 years old, who registered at a Filbert street hotel Sunday night, committed suicide by drinking a mixture of two deadly poisons. The register shows that her address is Washington, D. C., but the police have not been able so far to verify this information.

The young woman went to the hotel late Sunday night and was not seen about the hotel after retiring. Last night the hotel attendants, upon finding the door locked and receiving no response to repeated rappings, broke in the door and found the woman in bed in a sleeping position. They were unable to arouse her and later discovered two sanitary paper drinking cups that had contained the poison.

FIRE WRECKS PLANT.

Richmond, August 11.—Fire of unknown origin last night partially destroyed the main manufacturing building of the Ford-Whitehurst Manufacturing Company, Inc., Tenth and Byrd streets, doing damage estimated at about $25,000. The loss is fully covered by insurance. Two alarms were sent in, the first just fifteen minutes after midnight, and brought a quick response from the Fire Department, whose prompt work prevented the fire spreading to the lumber yards, the dry kilns, in W. S. Forbes & Co.'s plant, which were in the immediate vicinity.

INCOME TAX RETURNS.

Richmond, August 11.—One in every ninety-three persons residing within the present corporate limits of the city of Richmond is blessed with an annual income exceeding $2,000, according to figures compiled from the reports of H. E. Tresnon, Commissioner of Revenue, which have just been filed with C. Lee Moore, State Auditor of Public Accounts. While there are 1,376 of these fortunate individuals on the voluminous lists, Auditor Moore is confident, basing his assumption on past experiences, that many more names will be added when the Grand Jury begins to investigate the records, and quite a few of the incomes will be considerably augmented by items which have either been forgotten or wilfully omitted from the sworn statements.

The Case of L. L Cantelou.

The case of L. L. Cantelou, Clarendon, Texas, is similar to that of many others who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says, "After trying a doctor for several months, and using different kinds of medicine for my wife who had been troubled with severe bowel complaint for several months, I bought a 25c bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After using the second bottle she was entirely cured." For sale by all dealers.

Had Serious Lung Trouble—Now Well

Sufferers from Lung Trouble are often misled in the belief that nothing will save them. Rest, fresh air, wholesome food and regularity in habits do much in aiding to restore health, but something else is needed. Many people who have taken Eckman's Alterative have testified that it was this medicine which restored them to health. Read this:—

Weldon, Ill.

"Gentlemen: Through your instrumentality I have been saved from a premature grave. On December 24, 1904, I was taken with Typhoid Pneumonia, which developed into Lung Trouble. In February, 1905, I went to Fort Worth, Texas, and later to Canon City, Colorado. After being there two weeks my physician informed me that my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 103 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive. On July 14, 1905, I began taking Eckman's wonderful remedy for Lung Trouble. Today I weigh 158 pounds. I am stout and well and can do any kind of work about my grain elevator."

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. PROGRESS OF THE EUROPEAN WAR.

The dispatches from European capitals concerning the tug of war now in progress have to be taken with some allowance. Those purporting to come from Berlin are believed to be colored in order to appeal to Germany and those whose sympathies are with her in this titanic contest for supremacy, while those from Paris naturally paint happenings according to the wishes of the French and their allies.

Intelligence during the past week has been favorable to the Belgians and French, but those which have appeared in the papers today make important claims for Germany. During the civil war in the United States the first dispatches often described victories for the federal army, but subsequent advices showed that opposite conditions prevailed. Accounts of battles written from Southern standpoint were at times equally as misleading. It is always so, and it was further demonstrated during our short war with Spain. After Admiral Cervera's fleet had been annihilated at Santiago the first dispatches published in Madrid were to the effect that Spain had won a great victory.

Speculations as to the outcome the present clash of arms are legion. Some whose forecasts are according to their wishes, see the German Empire extended into the Mediterranean, the fall of the British nation, the almost total elimination of France from the map of Europe, as well as Holland, Belgium, Servia and other minor nations.

Another class, inimical to Germany, see the last of the Hohenzollerns and Hapsburgs and instead of monarchies republics throughout Europe.

The future is veiled, and no one is able to accurately forecost what is to be the aftermath of this world-wide struggle. While Europe is aflame, the martial spirit is spreading to other climes. Japan is about to enter upon the warpath and in a few months war may become universal.

The disastrous effects of hostilities between the mighty nations of the earth is already bringing forth fruits. The merchant marine of the countries now engaged are kept on the alert dodging cruisers of hostile powers, while commerce is being virtually destroyed. It may be said that should present conditions continue a few months the nations involved will suffer to an extent which will require half a century to bring them back to where they were a month ago.

The destruction or crippling of the merchant marine of a country is a serious blow. During our civil war three or four small privateers inflicted great damage to the shipping of the United States, the effects of which are still apparent. The mercantile interests of England and Germany are enormous, and with cruisers invading every sea preying upon each other, recuperation will be the work of many years after the sword shall have been returned to the scabbard.

SENATORIAL DELAYS ON WAR CLAIMS.

(Communicated.)

This bill was passed by the House immediately on the convening of this session of Congress, last December. Hon. C. C. Carlin took an active part in assisting to secure prompt action on the bill by the House. The measure then went to the Senate, where it has been pending ever since last December. Members of the churches having claims in the bill have been expecting that a Democratic Senate would lose no time in completing the work so well begun by the House, but are fast arriving at the conclusion that the Senate has no intention of permitting the bill to become a law.

Congress after Congress, these claims have been passed by one or both Houses of Congress, only to die with the end of each Congress, on account of being delayed until the closing days of each Congress, when there was no time for their final enactment.

The churches of this city having claims in the bill are:

First Baptist Church, $3,900; St. Paul's Episcopal Church, $2,000; Second Presbyterian Church, $4,300; Washington Street Methodist Episcopal Church South, $4,600; Alfred Street Baptist Church, $900. The Mount Olivet Methodist Protestant Church, of Alexandria County, also has a claim for $3,400 in this bill.

It is almost inconceivable that a Democratic Senate should allow this long session of Congress to end without acting upon this bill, of such deep concern to so many people and churches of our State.

No reason is apparent why this measure, carrying only claims which have been tried and reported favorably by the Court of Claims, should be again allowed to die for lack of consideration at the hands of the Senate, especially when it is a well-known fact that a large number of private pension bills has been passed by the Senate, at this same session, some of them comprising many hundreds of names to be added to the pension rolls.

Explanation as to why Southern claims must give way to pension claims is something that should be forthcoming if our Senators fail to secure the enactment of this appropriation during the present session of Congress. If the people and churches of Virginia cannot secure payment of their claims at the hands of the present Democratic Congress, their dissatisfaction is apt to be marked.

It would seem that what the House could accomplish within a few days after the beginning of the session the Senate should be able to accomplish in a period of seven months that has elapsed since passage of the bill by the House.

It is hoped that the Virginia Senators will take such action as will secure the making of this appropriation, without further dangerous and unnecessary delay.

OCEAN LINER CAPTURED.

North German Liner Falls Into Hands of British.

New York, August 11.—While incoming ocean liners yesterday brought confirmation that foreign warships are cruising off the Atlantic Coast of America, strict censorship over the cables leading out of Bermuda has perhaps kept hidden from public knowledge the fate of the North German Lloyd steamer Kronprinz Wilhelm, which took 6,000 tons of coal out of this port under cover of darkness last week before the battleship Florida began its enforcement of the neutrality laws.

The British cruiser Essex has captured the German liner and is taking her, a prize of war, into Hamilton, Bermuda, according to wireless messages, declared to have been overheard at sea.

A correspondent at Bermuda indicated in a cryptic dispatch that he had information which he had not been allowed to communicate by cable. This message came in response to one informing the correspondent of the reported capture of Kronprinz Wilhelm.

Tuxedo—the Most Enjoyable and the Most Healthful Smoke

THE most enjoyable smoke is a pipe. But many men deny themselves this pleasure because they have had unhappy experiences with pipe tobaccos.

Likely you have paid 35 cents to 50 cents for a tin of "fancy mixture," and it burned your mouth or throat, or was unpleasantly strong.

Too bad—but you got the wrong tobacco. The hundreds of thousands of men who have tried

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

have found the answer to their smoke problems. Tuxedo is the mildest tobacco made. It cannot bite the tongue or dry the throat.

And it's economical. There are 40 pipefuls in a ten-cent tin. You can't get any better tobacco because nothing better grows than the mellow, perfectly aged Burley leaf used in Tuxedo.

If you try Tuxedo for a month and cut out other smokes, you will not only have had the best month of smoking you have ever had in your life, but you will have made a mighty big saving in your pocket-money!

CARLIN OF VIRGINIA.

"It is a remarkable fact that when a subject of great importance is to be dealt with by the Congress of the United States, there always comes to the front some one preeminently equipped and qualified to give direction to it, and it just as frequently happens that although the ability and fitness of the individual have been recognized by his associates in the House or Senate, yet the opportunity has not been given for the nation to become acquainted with him until the service is rendered. This has been especially true of the present Democratic House. Mr. Underwood sprung into prominence through his handling of the tariff; Mr. Glass, of Virginia, through his connection with the new bankruptcy and currency bill, and last, but not least, Representative C. C. Carlin, of the Eighth District of Virginia, who has won his way to fame and national prominence by his connection with the trust legislation.

"Mr. Carlin was born in Alexandria, Virginia, and is a young man serving his fourth term in Congress, and as a member of the Judiciary Committee of the House, and chairman of one of its most important sub-committees, it was natural that the major part of this work should fall to him. He had hardly begun the task of preparing the trust bills with his associates, Messrs. Clayton and Floyd, before his knowledge of the subject, together with his great ability as a lawyer, and his wonderful capacity for work, became known. Chairman Clayton's acceptance of a judgeship in Alabama prevented him from handling the bills on the floor of the House. This gave Mr. Carlin his opportunity. He was selected by Chairman Webb to close the debate for the committee, and his speech in doing so proved to be one of the sensations of the session. The Democratic side of the House recognized that he was master of the subject and were quick to show their appreciation, and the minority members were equally as prompt in showing their recognition of the new star that had arisen in the House.

"Mr. Carlin, when asked a few days ago by a representative of National Monthly, to give his views on what is known as the Clayton anti-trust bill, very promptly responded that the bill preserved intact the Sherman Law, so that its force and effectiveness is in no way impaired—the Clayton bill, in every one of its twenty-three sections being entirely supplementary, dealing with old evils in a new way.

"Section 2 of the bill is designed to prevent discrimination in prices for the purpose of injuring or destroying competition. This section prohibits such practices as the Standard Oil Company the American Tobacco Company indulged in, by going into a community or State and lowing its price below the cost of production while it maintained a high price in other States. Thus, a competitor would be driven from one State to another until he was finally eliminated. Twenty-one States have recognized this evil and adopted statutes to prevent it within their borders. This section now applies to interstate commerce between all of the States and foreign nations, and is especially designed to protect the small trader from destruction by the large trader. This section, Mr. Carlin added, was inserted in the bill, together with Section 4, in response to the demand of merchants all over the country. Section 4 prevents contracts from being made by the manufacturer with the merchant which would exclude the merchant from selling the goods of a competitor, but does not prevent the manufacturer from having his exclusive agent, or selecting his own customers, but does prevent him, when he has parted with the title to his goods, from prohibiting the merchant who buys them from also buying the goods of a competitor, if he desires to do so, and from fixing the price of the merchant to the consumer.

"There has been a great deal of talk about the labor provisions of the bill by the Republican press of the country, but that those provisions are right and just is established by the vote which was taken in the House upon their adoption, 207 men voting in the affirmative, and not one in the negative—the 207 men voting representing the Republican, Bull Moose and Democratic parties, and the vote, as stated, was unanimous. So no political party can complain of these provisions of the bill as they received the unanimous support of all parties.

"The bill deals with holding companies and prohibits from existing, that class of holding companies which are recognized evils.

The interlocking director is another evil which the bill reaches, dividing the subject into three parts, common carriers, banks and trust companies, and industrial corporations. A director of a common carrier will be prevented, two years after the passage of the bill, from either buying and selling the securities of the road to himself, or buying supplies from himself. This evil has long been recognized as vicious, and no one has appeared to make serious objections to the provision, the necessity for its enactment being universally recognized and acquiesced in. The bill permits interlocking directors in banks and trust companies in cities of less than 100,000 population, and in banks where the undivided profits, deposits, capital and surplus does not exceed $2,500,000. The same rule is applied to industrials, the effort being to prohibit interlocking directors in large concerns where the opportunity for evil is the greatest, and yet does not disturb smaller operations which do not approach monopoly or restraint of trade.

"The bill makes certain that guilt hereafter shall be personal by providing that "the individual officer or agent of any corporation who shall have authorized, ordered or done any of the acts which shall constitute a violation of the provisions of the anti-trust law by a corporation, shall be personally fined and imprisoned."

"Mr. Carlin was asked what he thought the effect of the bill would be on business generally, and replied that it would be helpful to all business, big and little alike, for the reason that the bill prohibits that which is wrong and expressly permits that which is right—right, in the sense that man understands when dealing with his fellow man. Technalities and uncertaintjes have been eliminated from the statutes, and business will be enabled to proceed upon established lines of certainty. Opportunities are made for the drafting of new men into big business, and for the engaging of more men in small business. The business men of our country are not dishonest, although many dishonest methods have been introduced into business. We are preserving both the man and the business, and are prohibiting only the unfair and dishonest method. The effort has been to unscramble the egg by promoting the economic principle of dissolution, by combinations operating in restraint of trade, with a view to re-establishing fair and honorable competition between man and man in their business efforts and investments, and even in the restoration of competition to prescribe rules of fairness in plain ter[illegible] business operations, bi[illegible] may be accentuated alon[illegible] fair competition. Th[illegible] vote against the bill in the House, after discussion, was 54. The vote for the bill in the House, consisting of Democrats and Bull Moose, was 277. This vote tells the story to the people better than words could possibly do. What Republican or independent can attack the bill in the face of such a vote?"

Leading Citizens Will Vote To Retain Local Self-Government

Farmers, Business and Professional Men State for Publication Their Reasons for Opposing Statewide Prohibition—Lack of Space Permits Publication of Only a Few of the Hundreds of Letters from Every County in the State

W. T. OULD, a Well-Known Merchant of Glenlyn, Giles County, Writes:

"I believe in Local Self-Government and Statewide prohibition would destroy Local Self-Government.

"I think the people of each district should have the right to say what should and what should not be sold in their locality."

G. BECKWITH, Prominent Farmer of Passapatanzy, King George County, Says:

"Statewide prohibition is against the fundamental principles of democracy or Self-Government. Having been a commercial traveler for many years, and during a number of years traveled in Kansas, Iowa, North and South Dakota, I have found the prohibition law a dead letter in many communities where the people were in favor of license. Local Option is the only way to control the liquor question."

WILLIAM F. JAVIS, Farmer, New Point, Mathews County, Thus Gives His Reasons for Opposing Prohibition:

"Because I am a Democrat and believe in the principles of a true Democracy, and I believe in Local Government, not only in the sale of liquor, but in various other matters, as the same laws do not suit every part of the State. I would not vote for the sale or manufacture of liquor in my county, and I think if any other part of the State should vote and give a majority to force it upon us against our will it would be an imposition; therefore, if I vote to prohibit the sale of liquor in section where the people desire it, that would be an imposition and undemocratic."

C. P. NOLAN, Farmer, Elamsville, Patrick County, Is Opposed to Prohibition for These Reasons:

"That the interest of the people in different parts of the State is so diversified that each locality should be allowed to control its own local affairs; that Statewide prohibition would be forcible imperialism and contrary to the principles and American people, and would be detrimental to the State mentally, morally and financially; that it would substitute blockade distilleries in the place of licensed distilleries, blind tigers for decent saloons, increase the burden of taxation, cause money to be spent outside of the State that would otherwise be kept in the State; that the use of intoxicating liquors can only be controlled or reduced by moral persuasion and not by stalwartism."

C. M. McCLAIN, Lawyer, Justice of the Peace and Farmer, Greenfield, Nelson County, Is Opposed to Prohibition for These Reasons:

"First, because I think it would be an invasion upon the fundamental principles of Local Self-Government.

"Second, because I think the liquor traffic would be carried on more extensively and illicitly than under the present temperance laws, and by a rude class of citizens, which would cause trouble, distress and disturbance in communities where peace and harmony now exist.

"Third, because I believe it to be undemocratical in the extreme."

J. HENRY CRUISE, Justice of Peace, Snake Creek, Carroll County, Writes:

"I am opposed to Statewide prohibition because it carries with it a feature of oppression, and does not diminish crime or stop drunkenness. It does not add anything to the cause of temperance.

"I endorse Local Option because it gives to each county and community the right to control the sale of liquor. The law, in connection with Local Option, if strictly enforced, is sufficient to hold in check the illegal sale of intoxicants. In my humble judgment Statewide prohibition will take from our State a considerable revenue, and increase the burden of taxation. This matter should be duly considered by the good citizens of the country."

J. E. ROGERS, Farmer, King George County, Opposes Prohibition:

"Because if any control of the liquor question is just and right, Local Option, which seeks to obtain the consent of the governed in each community, must be the just and right way under our form of government. I am utterly opposed to Statewide prohibition as proposed under the so-called enabling act, because it is manifestly unjust and unfair in that it takes the dry counties of the State which have exercised the privilege of Local Option in voting dry to force dry, wet communities which have not exercised the privilege of Local Option when at the same time, if any dry counties vote wet, it is not permitted license to sell as it has voted. Because it is not a square deal, a piece of sneak thief legislation thrust through a time-serving Legislature, bulldozed and intimidated by an army 400 strong of clerical hypocrites who marched to the Capitol and harrangued a multitude there while the question was pending in the Legislature."

H. C. DETHILLS, Well-Known Attorney, Tappahannock, Essex County, Opposes Prohibition Because:

"Because I am a Democrat in politics and principle and believe that Local Self-Government in such matters as the liquor traffic is the only fair way to deal with the problem. I consider that the people of Essex have no more right to say that Richmond shall not issue license than the people of Richmond have to say that the people of Essex County shall issue license to sell liquor."

N. F. SMITH, Prominent Contractor of Berryville, Clarke County, Opposes Prohibition:

"Because Statewide prohibition will cause a great quantity of Virginia's money to be sent out of the State for liquor when it might be spent in the State and Virginia's money kept in Virginia.

"Because Statewide prohibition will cut down the revenue of the State and cause this loss to be made up by raising taxes on the necessities of life.

"Because Statewide prohibition will not prohibit the sale of liquor in the State, but will cause it to be sold illegally, and in a manner and in places which make it impossible to regulate and control."

T. J. TAYLOR, Physician, Kenbridge, Lunenburg County, Says:

"That over one-half of the counties in Virginia draw more money out of the treasury of the State than they pay in. What is to become of the deficit.

"I am not willing to be taxed to make it up, and extra taxation is the only means by which it can be made up. The States which have already abolished Local Option for Statewide prohibition, finding that prohibition does not prohibit, would be glad to return to Local Option. Alabama was one of those that returned to Local Option."

J. W. BORUM, Farmer, Burkeville, R. F. D., No. 2, Nottoway County, Says:

"My experience is that prohibition does not prohibit. It will take the liquor business from the hands of responsible men and place it in the hands of irresponsible people who will have no respect for law or order. It will cause loss of revenue to the State and will throw the traffic into other States. I am in favor of each locality settling the matter for themselves, without outside interference. Local Self-Government is satisfactory to me."—Adv.

Catherine C. Larkin, 14-year-old girl, who disappeared while on her way to church last Friday morning, was found in an emaciated condition last night in a piping vault under the flooring of a schoolhouse in New York. Marks on her hands and body showed that she had been bound with ropes. The glass was missing from the frame of a small window which led to the vault, letting in enough air to prevent the child from suffocating. Moaning attracted the attention of detectives who were searching the building. They had traced to the schoolhouse a colored man who was under surveilance, and who subsequently was arrested. The girl said she had been in the vault since Friday, when she was lured to the schoolhouse by a colored man.

LIGHTNING KILLS WOMAN.

Baltimore, August 11.—Struck by a bolt of lightning which had traveled over a wire clothesline under which she was standing with a baby in her arms, Mrs. John R. Brown, wife of a tenant on the farm of Reuben Geist, in the Worthington Valley, about a mile from Glyndon, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon before the eyes of her sister-in-law and her four children, who were watching the storm. The baby was unharmed.

When yesterday afternoon's thunderstorm came up Mrs. Brown was in her house watching its progress from a window. She saw her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alfred Brown, approaching the house fro macross a field and carrying her young baby. Mrs. John Brown hurried out to meet her and took the baby from her as she came up.

The two women stood for a few moments at the gate talking of the approaching storm and of the prospects it bore for a good rain. Mrs. John Brown remarked that they had all better go into the house, as the storm was likely to be a severe one, and they started in, the four children, who had been playing in the yard, about to follow them.

Just at that moment a bolt of lightning struck a large locust tree in the rear of the house, to which a wire clothes line had been fastened. Mrs. Brown was standing under the wire, but at some distance from the tree. The bolt came down the tree, followed the wire until it reached Mrs. Brown, passed from the wire in a blue flame and traversed her body into the ground at her feet.

The baby was thrown several feet by the shock, but was picked up unharmed. Mrs. Brown was dead when her husband, who had been working in the barn a short distance away, ran to her and carried her into the house. Mrs. Alfred Brown was severely shocked, as were the children, but none of them was seriously hurt, and all soon recovered.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., August 11.—During a heavy electrical storm at Plymouth yesterday Jacob Kluck-nich, 50 years old, was struck by lightning and instantly killed.

Congressman Hay Proposes Settlement for Forest Lands.

Washington, August 11.—Representative James Hay, of Virginia, in whose district are located thousands of acres of forest lands which have been bought by the government under the Forest Conservation act, has introduceda bill in the House amending the Weeks law for the relief of many persons who have sold out to the government in the Valley of Virginia.

It appears that the government has taken over thousands of acres of forest lands in the Massanutten and Blue Ridge Mountain Ranges. Some of the land was acquired 18 months ago, and since then the government has been selling firewood from it. Not a cent, however, has been paid for the lands, as the Department of Justice has not passed upon the titles for the property.

Mr. Hay's bill proposes that the Government shall pay 6 per cent interest on the purchase price of forest lands from the time the property is actually taken over by the Agricultural Department until the money is paid down. The dilatory tactics of the government in passing on the titles so that the money can be paid have caused a flood of letters to reach Mr. Hay and prompted him to
